

Johnson Creek Residents Know How to Work!

ColumbiaCare's involvement in the community continues with the hardworking residents at Johnson Creek PSRB. A small group from the facility joined the Tideman Johnson work party as they worked in a park local to the area. Andrew Axer, Facility Administrator, reported that the residents came home tired but happy and proud that they were able to contribute. They have been asked to participate in the last couple of work parties scheduled before they break for summer.